Chess Dynasty in the Making at St. Mary’s School in Crown Point

Friday, January 11, 2019

St. Mary Catholic Community School’s Chess Club recently competed in the Scholastic Chess of Indiana individual regional tournament at Morton High School in Hammond. Those who reached the highest levels qualified for the state tournament. In a good year the school in Crown Point typically has five students or so advance to the state tourney. This year St. Mary’s had nineteen qualify! School principal, Tom Ruiz said, “We’re proud of all our chess club members and all the parents who help provide this opportunity for our students, especially Dr. Lisa Mullally who heads up the club. Considering so many of our state qualifiers were from the lower grade levels, this may be a dynasty in the making!”

St. Mary Catholic Community School in Crown Point offers grade levels Junior Pre-Kindergarten (for three year olds) through eight.
